My name is Ares Hickey, and I serve as a financial advisor at GuideStone®. My calling is to help our members pursue financial security with wisdom and integrity, and to serve each one with personalized guidance rooted in biblical principles. I'm passionate about building meaningful relationships and crafting tailored strategies that align with each member's unique goals, values and life journey to ensure stewardship that honors both God and family.

I earned my Bachelor of Science in finance from Liberty University in 2018 and completed my MBA in finance at Dallas Baptist University in 2021. I hold FINRA® Series 6, 63 and 65 licenses.

Since joining GuideStone in 2021, I've drawn on my academic training, practical insight and commitment to excellence to deliver thoughtful, principled guidance that helps GuideStone members navigate the complexities of investments, retirement planning and wealth stewardship.

Beyond the office, I enjoy spending quality time with my family, exploring my passion for cars and maintaining an active lifestyle. I look forward to the opportunity to serve you on your financial journey.
